SOLONS OF OHIO HAVE ADJOURNED

Battled to the Last on Indeterminate Franchise Bill

RUSH BILLS THROUGH

Appropriation Measure Carrying $9,000,000 for 1914 Passed—Adjourn Sine Die at 1.20 This Morning.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Columbus, April 30.—Battling to the very finish over the Snyder indeterminate franchise bill, advocated by Mayor Henry T. Hunt of Cincinnati, the legislature adjourned sine die at 1:20 o'clock this morning. The Snyder indeterminate franchise bill as it was passed, applies only to the Cincinnati Traction company.

House leaders refused to permit the money bill, requiring all state money to be paid into the state treasury and paid out of the state treasury only on the order of the state auditor, to be brought to light during the closing hours, and Representative Jenkins of Madison county, acting for the Republican members, entered a protest upon the house records.

Among the bills finally passed yesterday which will go to Governor Cox today for the signature which will make them laws, were:

The Frieblin judicial bill, the Clarke "blue sky" bill, the Warner graduated automobile tax bill, the 1914 appropriation measure carrying more than $9,000,000, and the Snyder bill, the state to rent Longview Insane hospital from Hamilton county at an annual rental of approximately $60,000. Another bill, which will go to the governor today, is the Cowan bill appropriating $50,000 for the advertisement of the proposed constitutional amendments to be submitted by the legislature.

Members of both houses last night attended the banquet tendered them by Governor Cox, as a result neither house began its final session until 11 o'clock.

By a vote of 39 for to 55 against, the house proceeded to disagree to the conference report on the Snyder franchise bill, which included all public utilities, excepting telegraphs, telephones, and pipe lines. Representative Black of Cincinnati then asked for the new conference committee, stating that the Cincinnati delegation had agreed on a compromise bill, effecting only the Cincinnati Traction company.

As finally passed, the Snyder bill applied only to public utilities which hold 50-year franchises under the Rodgers act. The Cincinnati Traction company is the only such utility.

Indications at this time are that Governor Cox will call a special session of the legislature some time next winter. One of the most important subjects contemplated for the special session will be permanent flood prevention. The special session also probably will consider the disposition of the state's canal systems, as will be recommended by a legislative committee which will conduct an investigation this summer.

Much fun was indulged in this morning by the members of the house just prior to and following the final adjournment. The members completely re-organized the house, making Representative Schweikert of Cincinnati, speaker.

Auditor of State Donahay declared today that he would hold Speaker Swain of the house of representatives responsible for the defeat of his bill to require all state departments to pay money into the state treasury through his department.

Mr. Donahay said that he would begin a campaign soon to have the bill made a law by the people under the initiative and referendum. He will ask his friends in various parts of the state to circulate petitions for the necessary signatures to secure a referendum.

NEW RULES OF RAILROADS FOR FREE BAGGAGE

[Associated Press Telegram]
Chicago, April 30.—Forty-five inches is the longest trunk that may be carried as free baggage on railroads in the United States after today. Also the new rules from on the trunk with bulging side or bottom designed so that it must stand in a certain position so the crown and hats inside will travel right side up. It may be some time, however, before the "trunk" trunk can be refused. Notice is required in order to reject them lawfully. Five pounds for each inch over forty-five inches is the rate of excess charges that will be levied under the new baggage rules.

"Jimmy" Lynch, Who May Be Next Public Printer

President Wilson has intimated that "Jimmy" Lynch, head of the International Typographical Union, is to be named for public printer. If he does take the place there will be less talking in the Public Printing Office at Washington than ever before in its history. For Lynch is known as the possessor of ability to keep his mouth shut so great that it is considered absolutely dangerous.

He smiles and smiles and says nothing and looks nothing when he is on business concerning the interests of the 15,000 printers in the organization. It has been his habit to speak when the time comes and to such good effect that the International Typographical Union has grown in fourteen years of his management from an empty treasury and 15,000 members to an old-age pension system and a full treasury, to say nothing of $200,000 spent to win a eight-hour day.

PICTURE SHOW

Indirectly Revealed to Mother Death by Drowning of Her Six-Year-Old Son.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Harrison, N. J., April 30.—A moving picture show indirectly revealed to Mrs. Harry Siegel last night the death by drowning of her six-year-old son, Harry. The boy had been playing during the afternoon with William Boesel, a seven-year-old schoolmate. William was afraid to say anything about the drowning. While he was with his mother at a moving picture show last night a film showing boys trying to rescue a drowning mate was thrown on the screen, William suddenly exclaimed: "That's just the way Harry Siegel died this afternoon."

Mrs. Boesel grasped William by the arm, bolted out of the theatre and hurried to Mrs. Siegel's home, where William tearfully recited the story of how Harry had fallen into the Passaic river while playing with him on a sand pile, and how he had failed to come up.

DR. SMITH TESTIFIES IN CASE

Mad Rush of People At Opening of Court This Morning

TELLS OF WIFE'S DEATH

Tears Fell From Defendant and Voice Broke—Makes Emphatic Denial of Killing His Wife.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Springfield, O., April 30.—Dr. Arthur B. Smith again resumed the stand in his own behalf this morning in defense of his life against the charge of having poisoned his wife, Florence Caviler Smith.

Knowing that the defendant would testify there was a mad rush at the early opening of court against which the doors of the court room had to be closed. Dr. Smith's voice was low but firm as he explained away many of the facts brought against him in suspicion by the state.

When Dr. Smith approached the matter of his wife's death and his grief his voice broke and tears fell. He said he owned no automobile at the particular time just after his wife's death when two state witnesses said they had seen him in his car with Mabel Merchant and that at that time she was not in the city.

At 9:30 the state started on cross examination. Harking back to his college days in the New York Homeopathic Institute and his work as an interne, he was asked as to trouble there which caused his resignation. This he denied. He admitted having been engaged to a nurse but said he had forgotten her name.

Following this the assistant prosecutor started on a line of stinging, sarcastic, biting questions under which the defendant grew angry and answered with emphasis. The cross examination is of affirmative accusation while Dr. Smith makes emphatic denial.

Prosecuting Attorney Laybourne asked Dr. Smith about the death of his aunt, Mrs. Anziah Winger, suddenly, in his home three or four years ago, but the court ruled the question out.

It was then shown that Mrs. Winger had made a present of part of the purchase for his second automobile. Asked if he had not used a part of his first wife's inheritance, promising to pay it back out of what he expected to get from the Winger estate, he said, "positively no. I never thought of such a thing."

The state then entered on a line of questioning as to Dr. Smith's connections with Mabel Merchant, his present wife, both before and after the death of his first wife. He admitted that Miss Merchant had been in their home as a nurse for his mother, and that later before the death of Mrs. Smith he had treated her professionally and at times, had called her up over the telephone in reference to her health.

He stated that he was not engaged to Mabel Merchant when she went to Boston, April 15, less than a month after the death of his first wife, but that they corresponded after that date. He sent her a box of flowers on one.

Cleveland Saloon Men Trick Baptist Brothers

John A. Chamberlain, of Cleveland, lawyer and head of the Baptist Brotherhood, which is to close the saloons on Sunday, now has the fight of his life.

"I never knew before I got into this how bad a man was a drink when he wants it, nor how dangerous the saloon man is to sell to him," remarked the leader of the Brotherhood, when he found the saloon men had tried a ruse of which he had not thought.

Mr. Chamberlain stated he had the lid fastened down on Sunday in the city which, till a short while ago had a Golden Rule chief of police. Suddenly he discovered that the saloon men had given all their customers keys to their places. The lock-smiths of the city were working night and day to turn them out. The printers, who had to get out fancy cards of "membership," also worked overtime.

The head of the Baptist Brotherhood does not believe the saloon men have found a successful method of keeping open on Sunday, and he is digging into the law to find one to overcome them.

PENILESS MEN

Claim to Have Been Driven From Dayton Without Receiving Pay For Work Done on Streets.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Chicago, April 30.—One hundred and sixty-seven penniless men who said they had been working in Dayton cleaning up wreckage left by the recent flood and who said they had been driven from the city as "undesirables" without receiving wages due them from the city of Dayton, arrived here today.

They explained their plight at the Desplaines street police station. Officials there said the matter before the United Charities. Many of the men come from cities near Dayton.

Robert Abile, one of the number said work was slack in Cincinnati, where he lived and he left his wife and family to get work at Dayton.

"I was hired by the city at $2 a day to work on the streets," said Abile. "I worked with hundreds of others until three o'clock yesterday afternoon when soldiers herded us aboard a train. One of the soldiers told us that their orders were to get rid of undesirables and that we came under that heading. We didn't know where we were going until the conductor told us that the train was bound for Chicago. I never got any money for the work I did, and lots of us never had a chance to get our baggage before we left. I asked the conductor how I was going to get my wages and he said he guessed that somebody had used it to buy me a ticket."

Joseph Brown of Cincinnati and Joseph Czakowski of Cairo, Ill. told similar stories.

CLAIM MEN WERE UNFIT FOR WORK

Dayton, O., April 30.—City and relief authorities were much exercised over a story from Chicago that men had been driven from Dayton as "undesirables." They deny that injustice could have been done there, except in a few unavoidable instances.

The action of the authorities was taken to remove the city of imported laborers who became intoxicated and continued to be unwilling to work, as the statement of city officials.

The Chicago story is likely to do the city more harm, as there is a crying need for hundreds more workers. They have been able to get. There is a labor famine in every class of work. We can use a thousand men in the work of streets and mechanics. Every trade and every class of work is in need of men. Any man who can be sure of content and fair treatment is a good one.

HURRIED SESSION RESULTS

After Sec. Bryan Addressed the California Legislators

NEW DRAFT WAS PASSED

In Alien Land Trouble—Mr. Bryan is Highly Gratified at His Treatment in the Golden State.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—California's first step towards the enactment of an alien land law contrary to the advice of Secretary of State Bryan and President Wilson was taken late last night within three minutes after Secretary Bryan told the legislative conference that his official message had been spoken.

The senate, in which the Birdsall-Thompson bill was pending, met in a hurried session, and within three minutes voted to substitute for that measure, the new draft known as the Webb act, which was completed by Attorney General Webb yesterday.

The substitute was adopted as an amendment and the bill sent to the printer with a rush order.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Bryan in San Francisco, whether he went today as the guest of the Panama exposition, the plan of the senate leaders is to take no further action on the bill until Thursday when it will come up in the regular course of business and undoubtedly will be passed, it is said.

It will then go to the assembly and finally to the governor, who has stated that he will sign the measure at once.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—"I shall take back to Washington to President Wilson a message of how California has treated his representative," said Secretary of State Bryan last night to members of the assembly and Governor Hiram W. Johnson, who were guests of Speaker Young at a dinner.

"What a delightful message it will be, too. I will tell him how the legislature and the governor greeted his envoy in the same spirit in which he was sent. I cannot help but feel gratified at my recognition."

The alien land ownership bill adopted by the senate last night is known as the Webb bill but is in reality the old Birdsall bill with several provisions passed upon by Attorney General Webb inserted. Such portions of the Birdsall bill as were not included were the new draft submitted by the Attorney General were allowed to stand.

The ineligibility of Japanese subjects to become citizens of the United States under the laws of his government is the key note of the Webb alien land law bill, in spite of the fact that the words objected to by Secretary Bryan are not used in the act. The progressive leaders in the legislature admitted the proposed law would benefit the Japanese if by a test before the United States supreme court they were successful in establishing their rights to become citizens.

UNREST PREVAILS AMONG AMERICANS

[Associated Press Telegram]
Washington, April 30.—Mexico Constitutionalists at San Dimas have forced Americans there to pay a sum of 15,000 Mexican dollars and confiscated their arms. Official reports today from Mazatlan say that great unrest prevails among American residents there as the Huerta forces are said to be insufficient to protect property.

Washington, April 30.—President Wilson, according to the Democratic horse leaders, has proposed a co-operative plan for conducting the congressional campaign of 1914 so as to develop the plan it was said, today was the main reason for postponing last night the scheduled meeting of the Democratic congressional committee of which Representative Lord of Missouri is the retiring chairman. A new chairman is to be selected and he is expected to be Representative Johnson of Kentucky.

Representative Finley of South Carolina, who was a candidate, has withdrawn. The committee will meet soon for re-organization.

Stewart Edward White Going Into Heart of Africa

Tired of writing though it has been his habit to write the kind of books which make money, Stewart Edward White is about to sail on another trip to Africa. Now he is outfitting an expedition at Santa Barbara, Cal. R. J. Cunningham, who has spent most of his life hunting big and little game in Africa, will accompany the act, and the two will have no white companions on their journey, which is to be southwest of Lake Nyanza. They hope to push into other parts of Africa never before visited by white men.

Mr. White has traveled far. He knows lumberjacks, river-men, hunters, trappers and cowmen, having lived among them. Most of his books are about them, and breathe the spirit of the open air.

SHIVERING BRIDE

Sat on Steps of Grant's Tomb All Night Within Sight of Her Husband but Could Not Speak.

[Associated Press Telegram]
New York, April 30.—From midnight until eight o'clock this morning a bride sat shivering on the steps of Grant's tomb, within speaking distance of her husband, but forbidden to exchange even the tenderest of honeymoon conversation. She was the wife of Lewis Baumann, a patrolman on a fixed post, to whom she was married last night at nine o'clock. Baumann had expected to be relieved from duty, but an unfortunate police captain ordered him to his post as usual, so his bride kept the watch with him.

Under the rules policemen on fixed posts are forbidden to speak to citizens except in the discharge of their duty. The pair left arm in arm this morning sharp at eight o'clock.

BURGLARS WERE CAPTURED AT POINT OF SILVER PENCIL

[Associated Press Telegram]

Davidson, of Dayton, Ohio, Yale seniors, at the point of a silver pencil while ransacking his room in Vanderbilt hall, on the Yale campus, were in the city court today charged with burglary. In the dim light of the room the burglars thought the pencil leveled at them by Davidson as he entered, was a pistol. At police headquarters, in addition to weapons and a quantity of jewelry taken from the prisoner, Weiland was relieved of a loaded revolver.

RESUMED HECKLING TACTICS

Republicans to Fight the Tariff Schedule All Along the Line

LIVELY ROW OCCURRED

In House This Morning Over Angola Goats—Attempt to Amend Duties on Glass is Lost.

[Associated Press Telegram]
Washington, April 30.—When consideration of the Underwood bill was resumed at the opening of the house today, Republican leader Mann and his lieutenants, particularly Representative Payne of New York, Moore, of Pennsylvania, Gardner, of Massachusetts and Green of Iowa, resumed the "heckling" of the Democrats who framed the measure.

The Republicans have given every intention of fighting the schedules all along the line, avoiding however, the useless delays that will be boycotted by demanding record votes.

The Democrats propose to have night sessions continuously until the bill is voted upon and speed upon its way to the greater battle between the parties in the senate. Democratic Leader Underwood, guiding the measure through the house, is putting in direct charges as each schedule of the bill is read, the member of the committee who had charge of the schedule during the committee deliberations.

Representative Mann, as leader of the opposition and former Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee, have moved down to the front of the house on the Republican side, fortified with the Democratic bill and reports and other documents. Consideration of the earthenware and glassware schedule was resumed at the outset of today's session.

The weary debate was relieved by a row between Representative Hamilton, Republican, of Michigan, and Representative Hardy, Democrat, of Texas, over angora goats and their duty that set the house into roars of applause.

Standing on each side of the main aisle, the two members shouted at one another, shook fists and forefingers, argued in a two man chorus, but their words were drowned in the uproar. The bill however was not affected.

An attempt to amend the duties on glass, during which Representative Murdock declared Representative Moore of Pennsylvania "out-painted" the representatives of New York as a protection was lost after a sharp skirmish.

John Tilton and Frank Weller gave bond for $5,000. Broadman refused to explain why he shot Rowland. The shooting took place shortly after Broadman had failed to have a suit against him dismissed.

FROG LEGS MAY BECOME A VERY ORDINARY DISH

Washington, April 30.—Frog legs may become as ordinary a dish as bacon and eggs if the House passes a bill to fix the price of the frogs. CURVE FIEND AWAITS NEWARK IN FRIDAY'S GAME

When the Newark High school baseball team goes to Mt. Vernon on Friday of this week for a game with the High school there, local players will be called upon to face a pitcher who has a record of having fanned 30 men in the last two games pitched. Mt. Vernon considers the game with Newark the most important on the schedule and the Knox county leads will make every effort to win. The Newark boys will go in to the game fearless of the pitching wonder and will endeavor to "unbend" some of his wonderful curves and drive him to some of the tall timber north and east of the city.

NEW BOOK OF RULES ISSUED BY THE B. & O.

Local B. and O. railroad employees to the number of 2,000 must qualify for service by displaying accurate knowledge of the new book of rules issued by the company. Commencing Thursday, regular daily classes of instruction on the new rules will be held in the Railroad club, beginning at 8:30 each morning.

The men will be expected to know, thoroughly, all rules incorporated in the new book of regulations compiled in accordance with advanced strides in railroad operation, and covering requirements of the interstate commerce commission. Complete revision of rules comes about every four years.

The new book was distributed to all train and engine employees some time ago to study up and post themselves on each rule, and now the employees will be required as to their understanding of these rules.

It is likely that two or three special examiners will arrive here Wednesday morning on Thursday morning to take charge of the classes.

Benefitted Many Who Had Tuberculosis

Those who suffer from consumption are generally troubled with night sweats, fever, loss of strength and little or no appetite. Fresh air, good food and the proper care of the body are essential to a recovery, but in many cases something else is needed. Eukalyptol is a medicine which has been most successful in stopping night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite, and much who have used the device it saved their lives. Investigate what it did in this case.

"For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse. I had night sweats and pain in my chest. I was losing my appetite and was unable to gain weight. I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case consumption and being satisfied, I was admitted to the hospital. The doctor pronounced the disease consumption, which was proven later by an examination of sputum. As tubercles in the lungs were found, I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My fellow would not allow me to go until I had tried Eukalyptol. After three weeks I had marked relief. Night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved, and I was able to eat and sleep. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it."

CHALFANT BOYS HELD FOR THEFT AT SENECVILLE

Roy and Martin Chalfant, arrested here a week ago last Saturday and held for investigation, must answer to the grand jury on a charge of burglary and arson in connection with the robbery and burning of the jewelry store of E. D. Ellis of Senecaville, Guernsey county, on the morning of April 17.

The men were arrested by Patrolmen Burke, Draper, Francis and Wagonman McClure of headquarters when they attempted to dispose of a number of articles of cheap jewelry at the Korzenbom brewery.

Their suspicions were tipped off to the police and their arrest resulted. Enroute to the city prison, one of the men concealed a number of charms and pins in his shoe. Wagonman McClure found the jewelry where the men were searched at the city prison. The third man in the party escaped.

The Chalfant brothers were held to the grand jury under $200 bonds each. They live in Center township, east of Cambridge.

SEWING MACHINE IS WANTED BY A FLOOD SUFFERER

A young woman whose home was destroyed in the Zanesville flood and who since the flood has been visiting at her father's residence in this city, called at the Advocate office Tuesday evening having noted that several sewing machines had been shipped through this office to the Zanesville sufferers.

"I am a widow and make my living by sewing," she said, "but the flood took away everything I had. If you know of anybody who is willing to provide me with another machine I shall indeed be very grateful."

As fast as sewing machines, cooking stoves, beds and furniture have been donated they have been shipped to Zanesville. If anyone has a sewing machine for this woman and will phone this office (auto 1233) the Advocate will be pleased to advise the Zanesville woman who hopes to get back to her work in Zanesville soon.

THE SUMMER SCOURGE.

FLYES are disease carriers and originate in filth. They are born in filth; they thrive in filth; they prefer filth as an environment. With filth laden feet they drag their way through the butter; with filth covered wings they founder in the milk; with filthy bodies they succumb in the sirup.

From sewer and alleyway, manure pile and dead cat, they gather disease. This, too, they bring into the butter, the milk and the sirup. And thus human beings die, victims of the noisome, dirty, disgusting little insect—the worst nuisance of the summer.

One female fly lays about 120 perfect eggs. These eggs hatch in ten days. It may be assumed that they result in sixty perfect females. These females lay 120 eggs each. The eggs hatch in ten days and result in 3,600 perfect females. The 3,600 lay 120 eggs each, which hatch in ten days and result in 216,000 females, and so on. If therefore one energetic fly becomes productive on April 15, how many energetic flies will one manure pile give forth by Oct. 31? Kill the early fly.

DRUGGISTS HERE HAVE SOMETHING NEW FOR COLDS

An External Treatment That Vaporizes When Applied Over the Throat and Chest.

COLES GO OVERNIGHT. CROUP IN 15 MINUTES

Newark Druggists Are Giving With Each Sale a Refund Blank, Good For Money Back if Not Delighted.

Since its introduction here a short time ago, the new treatment for cold troubles, known as Vicks Croup and Pneumonia Salve, has aroused a great deal of interest among Newark people, especially among mothers who have small children.

The local druggists report quite a number who have taken advantage of the 30-day trial offer to see if Vicks really will relieve croup and colds quicker than internal medicines. With each purchase there is given a refund blank, showing the date of sale. If you do not find this treatment perfectly satisfactory, return this blank to your druggist any time within a month from the date of purchase and your money will be promptly refunded.

In place of being taken internally this new treatment is in the form of a salve and is applied over the throat and chest, in severe cases being covered with warm flannel cloths.

The heat of the body liberates soothing antiseptic vapors that are inhaled with each breath. At the same time the preparation is absorbed through the skin, relieving the soreness and tightness.

Croup is actually relieved in fifteen minutes while the worst colds go over night. For all bronchial and catarrhal troubles, sore throat, hoarseness and difficult breathing, this new treatment will be found unusually effective.

It is a positive protection against pneumonia in its early stages and in advanced cases the medicated vapors inhaled, loosen the phlegm and ease the difficult breathing. Its use does not interfere with other forms of treatment.

Nearly all the leading druggists now have Vicks in stock. It comes in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00. The price is never cut.

MANAGING EDITOR OF THE BILLBOARD VISITS THE CITY

Mr. H. H. Mayer, managing editor of the "Billboard," a well known amusement weekly, was a visitor in Newark Sunday afternoon and Monday in the interest of his paper to see the opening of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows. Ordinarily, Mr. Mayer stated to the Advocate, that it was usual to see the opening of this show at Peru, Ind., where the winter quarters of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows are, but owing to the conditions existing there, the result of the recent floods, the real opening of the show was here at Newark, the afternoon performance on Monday being the third, the first being at Peru, in the way of a dress rehearsal; the second, in Marion, Ind., on Saturday.

Mr. Mayer saw the show in the afternoon and spent the evening in interviewing the performers in the dressing tents which is, to say the least, a most interesting experience. He said that notwithstanding the fact that the show was working under difficulties, owing to the lack of time in giving proper rehearsals, and that they had lost many animals, including eight elephants that had died of exposure at Peru, the show was a very creditable one and that very few of the big shows now on the road had anything on the Hagenbeck-Wallace combined shows.

Mr. Mayer was very much surprised at the size and appearance of Newark and made an inspection of the city in an automobile Monday morning, and although the weather conditions were bad for taking pictures, he expects to reproduce some pictures he took at Newark in an early issue of the "Billboard." There will be a complete write-up of the opening of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows in the issue of the "Billboard" dated May 10. Mr. Mayer made many friends in Newark, owing to the fact that he is a very young man, it hardly seems possible that he is in charge of the "Billboard," which has approximately twice the circulation of any amusement weekly published in the United States or elsewhere.

It is his intention to return to Newark at an early date to spend a few days with the friends of the show, who are in the city.

Mr. Mayer's departure of West Virginia, which is the first of the show in this city, was held in that city for a number of years.

Dr. Mary Fulton Speaks Here Tomorrow

He's Going Away From Here

This man is evidently in a hurry. He is going away from here.

You never can get some men into action without a powerful stimulus. You can hardly say this man is having a bully time, although the bull may be. It is all in the point of view.

Anyway, the man is going some, and THAT IS GOOD FOR HIM, or is he goes fast enough. He has developed a burst of speed for once in his life.

It is good to get into action.

It is good for the individual and even better for the community.

THIS TOWN WANTS TO GET INTO ACTION. That means we as individuals want to get into action for the town. We want to get a move on.

The census shows that this country is increasing in population at the rate of nearly 2,000,000 per year.

These people have to settle somewhere.

WHY NOT HERE?

We may not be able to get the whole 2,000,000, but even a fraction will help.

Why not go after them?

We believe this is a good town else we would not live here.

Why not tell others and let them SHARE ITS BLESSINGS?

Excellent Way in Which to Spend Summer Vacation

[Associated Press Telegram]

New York, April 20.—The 20th century way to spend a summer vacation is house boating and hydro-aeroplaneing, according to Irvine Trombley, president of the Aeronautical society, who plans to try it this summer with his family in a way that is likely to attract considerable attention. It was learned today that he is building a house boat with sixty rooms, including a gymnasium, a bowling alley, a ball room and a roof garden, equipped with a hanger in which the family pleasure vehicle, a hydro-aeroplane, will be housed. The boat which Mr. Trombley believes will be the largest house boat in the world, will be launched about July 1st, and he expects to spend the next three months on it with his family.

Without his motor cars and his horses which have long been his hobby, he will indulge in flying. He has already built his hydro-aeroplane with plenty of room wherein to take Mrs. Trombley and the children, with him on short flights from the houseboat, which will be anchored in the Shrewsbury river in New Jersey.

TRUTH TELLS

And the TRUTH is Told—
In Our Advertisements

By HOLLAND.

MERCHANTS have learned that the Truth Tells when the Truth is Told. Hence they are scrupulous that their advertisements are accurate. Back of every advertisement, back of every statement made to attract custom, is the reputation of the merchant, his hope of continued success.

Deception may be profitable for a time, but deception cannot be permanent, and the profit based on deception is necessarily brief. Truth is the more effective as it is of longer duration. Falsehood loses its effectiveness as soon as it is discovered.

The merchants who advertise in this paper are honorable men, and this would make them truthful. But above all they are good business men, and they know that to be successful they must be truthful.

Read the advertisements and profit by them. You can rely absolutely on the statements made in the advertising columns.

Some criticism has floated out from Washington regarding a regulation alleged to have been issued by the Postmaster General requiring that new postmasters shall serve eight hours a day in the discharge of their official duties. Such criticism is not justifiable. When all the employees in the postal service are required to serve eight hours each day there is no good reason why Postmasters themselves should object to doing the same. If the Postmaster General has issued an order for such a regulation in the postal service it will doubtless be faithfully carried out by the new men appointed, for it will be their aim to make records that will promote the success and popularity of the Democratic administration.

Mr. Taft planted an oak for the New Haven anniversary celebration, and if he will water it every day throughout the summer it may actually grow.

A chain gang without chains has been invented by a Boston Magistrate who had to sentence several boys for breaking into a freight car and stealing from the contents. To send them to prison would probably make criminals of them. He sentenced them to keep a certain street near their homes clean for six months, and two policemen will see that they do the work. This penalty imposes useful work, and it will keep the boys out of criminal companionship. It will also provide a perfectly clean street, which will probably raise the standard of neatness in other neighborhoods.

On Second Thought

Cigars cost a lot of money, but Edith Wiley says he is better than most of the rich men smoked. Whether a woman is chasing or being from him, she invariably runs a man.

All a clean minded man notes about a woman's mark concerns the fact as to whether it is becoming. All the man with an unclean mind notes is that she is a woman.

One of woman's favorite devices is to tell her husband how old she is beginning to look, in order that he may keep her.

It is Buck King's theory that the New York woman who paid her driver $100 a year had some strange work done.

A century with a lot of well displayed is a lot of well displayed. A woman with a lot of well displayed is a lot of well displayed.

The Human Procession

Fifty years on the stage is the record of William H. Crane, the distinguished comedian, who will celebrate his sixty-fifth birthday today. Although nearing the three-score-and-ten mark, Mr. Crane looks and acts like a man of forty or fifty, and has lately been touring the West in "The Senator Keeps House." He keeps in condition by walking ten miles each morning, and seeks recreation in an occasional game of billiards. Born in Massachusetts on April 10, 1845, Mr. Crane was educated in a Boston school, and it was said of him that he was "wiser at minkicking his fellows and his teacher than at his lessons." His first situation was in a music publishing house, where he entertained fellow employees with imitations of the famous actors of the day. The "boss" didn't appreciate Willie's ability in that line, and discharged him.

Mr. Crane was eighteen when he met Mrs. Harriet Holman, who had been a famous actress, and who was then organizing a barnstorming company under the name of the Holman Opera company. She liked Crane's voice, and he was apprenticed to her, agreeing to give his services in return for training and board. It was in July of 1863 that the company opened at Utica, N. Y., with Crane playing the notary in "The Daughter of the Regiment." Other members of the company included Charles Drew and Signor Parricelli, both of whom, like Crane, were then just beginning successful stage careers. After eight years with the Holmans, Mr. Crane joined the Albee Opera company, with whom the idea of musical comedy originated. Mr. Crane was thirty-two when he turned to the dramatic stage and became a co-star with Stuart Robinson. His subsequent career may be summed up in his own words: "I am not a genius, but I know my business."

Little Princess Juliana, "the baby that saved a kingdom," will celebrate her fourth birthday today, and the anniversary will be marked by general rejoicing throughout Holland. The baby girl who may some day become queen of the Netherlands is far from being pretty, but she is robust and healthy, and has a will of her own. Queen Wilhelmina has about a dozen half brothers and sisters, and she is the only one who has not been crowned. She is the only one who has not been crowned. She is the only one who has not been crowned.

Barton Axtell, the distinguished English banker and scientist, was born in London seventy-nine years ago today. To readers on this side of the Atlantic he is better known as Sir John Lubbock. His great book, "The Pharaohs of Egypt," has been issued in over two hundred foreign editions, and nearly half a million copies of the English edition have been sold.

It will be a great mistake to think that the only way to get a good education is to go to a university. A good education can be obtained in many ways. A good education can be obtained in many ways. A good education can be obtained in many ways.

A Word to the Storekeeper.

What kind of advertising are the manufacturers whose goods you handle doing for you?
Are they advertising merely to create a DESIRE for their products?
Or are they really trying to create a DEMAND?
General publicity may create desire for an article, but the only kind of advertising that benefits the reader is the kind that creates demand—the kind that brings customers direct to the store.
The one effective way of linking the retail store with nationally distributed merchandise is to use daily newspaper space.
You, Mr. Retailer, understand the value of newspaper advertising.
Next time you talk with a manufacturer who wants to help you sell his goods through advertising, tell him what you know about the efficiency of THE ADVOCATE and other good news papers.

Income Tax May Bring Economy; Congressman Cox Favors Saving

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 30.—[Special].—"If we are going to economize we must begin at home and upon ourselves," sharply remarked Congressman Cox of Indiana in one of his annual speeches against the mileage paid to members.

Each member now receives 20 cents a mile for every session he attends. It is thought that quite a saving could be accomplished by cutting down the rate to 5 cents a mile. But congressmen do not take kindly to the reduction of their personal expenses. They tried to keep down the number of clerks and other employees, but without making much of a show. On the personal side it is hard to economize when the government pays the bills.

But the personal economy amounts to but a drop in the bucket. The big saving could be made on the semi-personal side, in cutting down the large river and harbor and public building bills, in reducing the number of military posts and navy yards, most of which are maintained for the benefit of states and congressional districts and help to re-elect the men who keep them in operation.

Income Tax May Help.

There is a widespread belief that the income tax will go a long way to help along a sentiment in favor of reduced expenditures. It is believed that the men who pay the income taxes will try and create a sentiment in favor of federal economy.

At present the feeling in all communities and among most of the congressmen is that whatever comes out of the federal treasury is so much "velvet." Uncle Sam has always been regarded a "good thing," and government money has been considered easy money. The income tax may make a difference.

Old Soldier in the House.
And here is another old soldier, one of the civil war, elected a member of congress. Sanford Kirkpatrick, one of the Democrats from Iowa, enlisted when nineteen years old and served four years in the great struggle. As a government officer he has visited forty-one different states of the Union.

Mann and Assistants.
During the two years he was minority leader James R. Mann rarely had any one assisting him. He had no lieutenants. Occasionally he yielded to men for short speeches, but he never really had any one who was ever ready to take up the work he mapped out. It is not that any member sufficiently intelligent to comprehend Mann, or take up his work, but that Mann was so sure of himself.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Inflammation of the Skin.
Medically, "red hands" are a form of erythema, or local inflammation of the skin. Now, there are a great many kinds of erythema, due to a large number of causes, from some infectious disease like scarlet fever to mere prolonged exposure to cold or heat.

The question arises, What can be done to prevent the first stage of erythema—namely, the increased blood supply to a part, or hyperemia, and what to prevent the first stage from developing into a permanent condition? This question is more easily answered in the summer, but still it is not unimportant.

In the first place, those who have a sensitive skin must protect it as much as they can in their power. They must keep from icy water immersion, say, washing with cold water or cold water. The water should always be tepid. Particular attention must be paid to the soap used, that with an excess of alkali being particularly injurious.

As to further treatment, when once the hands have begun to show signs of more or less permanent redness they should be rubbed dry in an upward direction and afterward smeared with some antiseptic, such as borax or lanolin, several times a day. They should frequently be held high and joined above the head so as to facilitate the escape of blood. At the same time it is advisable to go in for suitable exercises, walking, gymnastics, croquet, golfing, etc., which can only help to improve the general circulation.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

A New Way to Tell The Time.

THE doctor did not come often to Jack and Evelyn's house. His visits were so rare that the children felt very important when he was called in to tend to them.

And Evelyn had just had a spell of mumps. Mumps is not a very pleasant illness.

"Although Dr. Brown does not come very often," daddy said when he came home in the evening, "I hope you did not say anything that will send him off on his rounds telling jokes about us, as he did about Willie Smith."

"But really Willie Smith was a funny boy, though he didn't mean to be, and I don't blame Dr. Brown a bit for telling that story about him."

"Willie had the measles, and his mother sent for Dr. Brown to come to see him. The old gentleman came whirling up to the door in his automobile. Willie, who was peeping out of the window, felt quite proud of having the children of the neighborhood see the doctor stop at his door. Some of them had bragged about the bad illnesses they had, and Willie, who never liked to be left out of anything, often felt sorry that he wasn't sick more so that he could boast about having a doctor come to see him."

"Dr. Brown hurried in, and after a look at Willie's red face he nodded his head. He knew what was the matter with Willie."

"Put out your tongue, sir," the doctor ordered, and Willie stuck it out as far as he could.

"A good deal of tongue, sir," the doctor remarked. "I see you are a good deal of a chatterbox."

"Willie grinned sheepishly, for when he was well he really was a good deal of a talker. But he thought it was very wonderful that Dr. Brown could tell this just by looking at his tongue."

"Then the doctor slipped a little thermometer under Willie's tongue. Willie thought this very odd, but he did not say anything. Had not Dr. Brown said he was a chatterbox?"

"Then the doctor took out his big gold watch and lifted one of Willie's hands. The little boy's eyes nearly popped out of his head with surprise."

"The doctor was counting the pulse in Willie's wrist to find out how fast his heart was beating."

"When the doctor put the watch away Willie could keep quiet no longer. "Would you please tell me how you tell the time by my hand?" Willie asked.

"Dr. Brown looked at the little boy for a minute, and then he laughed and laughed. He said it was the best thing he had heard for a long time."

"And Dr. Brown, if he has told that story once, has told it a hundred times."

Trade Tourists Represent More Than Three Billions of Dollars

Pittsburgh's trade tourists will travel in a special train of Pullman and dining cars. All of the Pittsburgh newspapers will have representatives aboard. Telegraph and telephone connections will be established direct with the train at all stops. News of interest developing here will be flashed to Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 26.—More than three billions of capital will be represented on the trade extension tour of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce to be made through four states leaving Pittsburgh May 20, by the 100 bankers, merchants, jobbers and manufacturers who will be aboard, as these men represent some of the largest industries and mercantile establishments in the world.

What Pittsburgh is particularly interested in now is the establishment of proper terminal facilities to provide for incoming freight and particularly products of the farm, of which the Steel City is an exceedingly large buyer in all of the sections to be invaded on the coming tour. Pittsburgh has for years been championing the cause of Ohio river improvements. If proposed ordinances are passed here, the Monongahela and Allegheny wharves will be used for terminal facilities that will prove a boon to the Ohio, Muskegon, and Kanawha valley districts from which Pittsburgh receives much of its supplies of foodstuffs, and every town to be visited is as vitally concerned in these improvements as the big city itself.

Matters of this kind, it is asserted, need to be given the widest notice. Sam F. Sipe is the chairman of the subcommittee on publicity of the trade extension committee and has been for years. He is a diamond importer and lately has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for mayor of Pittsburgh, although he is not seeking political honors. Mr. Sipe has made 20 round trips across the Atlantic in that many years or in other words has crossed the busy deep 40 times to Amsterdam, the metropolis of the diamond cutting industry.

Another prominent member of the committee is George D. Edwards, vice president and treasurer of the Commonwealth Trust company, which is a depository for the state of Pennsylvania, city of Pittsburgh and of the Board of Public Education. Pittsburgh has 88 banks and trust companies with a total capital of $36,000,000 and with surplus and profits of more than $10,000,000, almost double the capital, making them safe and sound for stockholders. The capital, surplus and investment securities of these banks and trust companies total $50,000,000 in excess of deposits, which are over $10,000,000 or greater than the combined deposits of 13 southern states.

Joseph H. Smiley, another veteran member of the committee, is the president of Reymor & Bros., Inc., one of the largest confectionery manufacturers in the world. He has been associated with the firm for 42 years and has a business life for about 67 years. A feature however of the program of the men of the tour will be the diversity of interests represented, thus giving the out-of-town merchants an opportunity to meet the man with whom he has been doing business and probably has never seen. The itinerary of the coming tour embraces the following stops: McDonald, Steubenville, Dennison, Unicherville, New Philadelphia, Canal Dover, Coshocton, Newark, Zanesville, New Lexington, Lancaster, Logan, Athens, Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Ironton, Kenova, Ashland, Caledonia, Huntingdon and Charleston.

SUMMER GARDEN TO BE OPENED AT THE SEILER

An elaborate summer garden to accommodate 200 visitors, who may quaff the cooling beverages to accompany the latest musical hits and may be watch moving pictures without charge. During the warm summer afternoons and evenings, is being constructed by a force of workmen under direction of Manager Dick Matthews of Hotel Seiler, South Second street.

The new summer garden will be situated adjoining the hotel on the south side, and the management hopes to open it with a band concert and an elaborate display of electric lights, within probably two weeks.

For the opening, fifteen new tables have been ordered to be added to several already in stock. At night the lighting scheme will be of the subdued variety, with incandescent bulbs concealed within Japanese lanterns. The floor will be of rolled cinders. In the daytime the garden will be completely shaded by a heavy growth of foliage from huge Indian cigar trees.

Manager Matthews said Wednesday, it is planned to have the entire garden surrounded by a high board fence to insure privacy, and every effort will be put forth by the management to make the place orderly and attractive to a refined class of patrons.

It is likely that before the opening, arrangements will be made for a moving picture machine which will throw the latest subjects on a screen for entertainment of guests.

LOCAL OFFICIALS COULD NOT VERIFY REPORTED CHANGE

A report here that the B. & O. repair shops, which suffered heavy damage from the flood in Zanesville, are about to be transferred from the Muskegon, county seat to Cumberland, Md., could not be verified Wednesday. Local officials of the company said they had heard of no such change being contemplated.

Newark's repair work is done in Baltimore.

The reported transfer was intimated in a dispatch from Cumberland to Financial America, and says that on account of flood danger the repair shops are almost certain to be removed from Zanesville.
